PROFILE

I am a Frontend Developer with three years of experience in web development, specializing in food service, construction, and real estate businesses in Denver, USA. My background in software engineering is supported by a certification from ORACLE schools in Latam, and I have expertise in Backend Object-Oriented Programming (OOP) with proficiency in Java, C#, and C++. Recognized by Google for my User Experience Design knowledge, I excel at creating intuitive interfaces. Skilled in HTML, CSS, JavaScript, and frameworks like Squarespace, Wix, Square, and High Level, I focus on developing functional and visually appealing websites that meet clients' unique needs.
